RMR Weekly E-News

Hello RMR Faithful!

A quick note this morning to tell you a couple of things.

We found a no-till drill and it should be here this week. This is great news for your club. The weather some of us experienced last week dropped a lot of water on the grounds at RMR and this is perfect for the club. We will be spraying the bad weeds after they start to come up and then put the seed in the ground after that. All of this takes place about a month from now, so pray for moisture to get everything growing!

The construction on the new PYRAMID is coming along and it should be ready to use by the end of the month, barring any more snow! It looks fantastic so far.

RMR MEMBER NEWS

Long time member Chuck Pizzitola passed away this morning after his fight with cancer. He and his wife Cora and son in law Rik have been members for a while and Chuck really enjoyed getting out with his dogs and covering the ground at RMR. We have their family in our prayers and know that Chuck is watching the grass grow and the dogs run from a better place.

Member Dean Venezia and his wife Dawn had an addition of a baby boy to their family. This makes two for the Venezia clan and Mom and son are doing great.

CLASS A SUCCESS THIS PAST SATURDAY

Here is an email that one of the folks that took our class this past weekend sent out to her friends. She is in her mid 60's and had not shot a gun since she was a girl!

I did something this weekend that was SO far out of my comfort zone that I couldn't believe it was doing it. I took a beginning firearms/gun safety class through my friends Brett and Scott Axton. It's an 8 hour class. Not once was I bored. We got lots of hands on experience with different kinds of handguns. I really enjoyed the experience.

If you're one of those people that says "I'm afraid of guns", this class is for you.
If you want to know more about guns, or even learn how to shoot one for home protection, this class is for you.
If your husband has guns, and you don't know a thing about them, this class is for you.
If you hate guns, this class is still probably for you.

I learned how to handle a handgun safely, how to unload one, how to load one, and how to shoot one. (And as a total beginner, my aim was pretty good) I need to practice these things a lot to get proficient, but at least I have the general idea.

Before this class, I knew absolutely nothing about guns. Not once did Brett or Scott make me feel stupid. There were all levels of proficiency in the class. And I was fortunate to sit right next to a really cute young guy that helped me with the test! Anything for old "granny" you know.

The cost is $80, and you also get 2-3 hours shooting time, which really flies by!!!. Similar courses run $125-$150, with no shooting. The class was held out near Calhan at Brett's Rocky Mountain Rooster (pheasant) ranch.

Just wanted to share my experience with you, in case you were interested.

TWO FOR THE ROAD

Over breakfast one morning, a woman said to her husband, "I bet you don't know what day this is." "Of course I do," he indignantly answered, going out the door on his way to the office. At 10 a.m., the doorbell rang, and when the woman opened the door, she was handed a box containing a dozen long-stemmed red roses. At 1 p.m., a foil-wrapped, two pound box of her favorite chocolates arrived. Later, a boutique delivered a designer dress. The woman couldn't wait for her husband to come home. "First the flowers, then the candy, and then the dress!" she exclaimed. "I've never spent a more wonderful Groundhog Day in my whole life!"

A man receives a call from his Credit Card Company, "Sir, we have detected an unusual pattern of spending on your card, and we are calling to see if everything is alright."

"Yes," replied the man. "My card was stolen over a month ago." "Why didn't you report your card as stolen?" asked the card company representative. The man replied, "Well, whoever stole my card is spending a lot less than my wife!"
